

August 10, 2000

Today we are still at Reno, ensconced in the Boomtown RV Park. We have to leave soon because the slots are taking all our money. When we parked here we noticed hydraulic fluid leaking out of the leveling jack on the drivers side.

Staying today in Reno allowed us to take the rig into the shop and repair the leaking hose. We also got to fill up with gas at Costco where it is only $1.61/gal. Imagine, thinking that price is cheap! How soon we forget. We had to take on a little $2.00/gal gas in Arcata, CA

We even got cold at night here! Tomorrow we head across the Nevada desert to Utah.

