

JULY 7, 2001 TRIP

We have been eagerly anticipating our leaving the oven called Redlands. At the last minute we determined that the refrigerator in the motorhome was dying a slow death!
$1265 later we loaded our groceries and left on Friday morning.

As we approached Las Vegas, the sky opened up and produced a deluge the likes of which we have never seen. Lightning, thunder, wind, the whole bagful.

We settled in, nice and snug at the Vegas Thousand Trails Park and went out to eat and gamble. With a stroke of luck, I was able to win enough to pay for my dinner!

The weather was hot and muggy. We opted to leave for Utah on Saturday morning and were glad we did. We stopped for a couple of days at the town of Kanarraville, Utah. Population 230. A picturesque little town that has just entered the 1950's! The altitude here is over 5,000 feet and the temperature was a nice 78 degrees.

We took a ride up the mountain to Cedar Breaks National Park and Brian Head city. Sadly, the Spruce beetle is eating and destroying all the mature Spruce trees over a huge area. All the mature trees on the property we own there have been cut down, leaving an almost denuded lot!

On the 9th we left for Salt Lake City. We stayed at Park City and had dinner at our friends, Bonnie & Dave, home on the golf course at Jeremy Ranch. The two Bonnies and the two Daves had a wonderful time.

We have had several thunder storms while we have been here at Park City. This morning, the temperature was 50 degrees. We considered turning on the heater!

We will head for Wyoming on the 11th. Gasoline so far has been around $1.50/gal.
