

8/5/2013

WE HAVE LIFTOFF!

After days of loading everything we own into the motor home and tow car, we are finally escaping the heat. Today's destination is Pahrump, NV, which may be hotter! Time is marching on, however. In your wildest imagination can you see two old farts in a 56 ft. combination rig, grossing 12 tons, speeding down the highway towards you! And heading for Alaska yet!

It appears that we jumped out of the frying pan into the fire! It has been as high as 111deg here and we are giving our air conditioners a workout.

Our first two nights were spent in Pahrump, NV. The town statistics list the average income as $23K/year. A poor economy here. Leaving town for Las Vegas, we passed about 20 billboards that were blank. Apparently the business world cannot even afford to advertise anymore!

Bonnie loves her new chair that moves you to a standing position to get up. We also have one of these at home for her.

The Las Vegas Thousand Trails had plenty of sites empty at this time of year. The sky has been cloudy for two days but the temp has still been 90-100 deg.

We leave tomorrow for Salt Lake City, but it doesn't look any cooler!

Dave and Bonnie