

OH MY GAWD!

The first thing we saw when we were driving thru Hyder was this motor home! Those poor people, we didn't see how anyone could survive this rollover.

After we agonized over it for 2 days, I asked the RV Park mgr. For the details.

Well. He said, seven years ago an old fellow drove it to that spot and put a FOR SALE sign on it. When the mgr. came back the next year, that's what he saw. The snow fall that year was so deep and heavy, it crushed the cab just as you see it! Subsequent year's snow has further deteriorated it. The owner has died and the hulk still remains there, as do the remains of every auto owned by the town residents!

We saw not a single bear or animal of any kind, and rewarded ourselves with a drive up to see the Salmon Glacier.

Over the top of the field is the Columbia Glacier seen when you take a cruise.
