

10/7/2013

THE RETURN OF THE WINDS

We actually added two more days to our Brookings stay. The last day, however, the devastating Pacific Northwest storm front hit us with 75 mph winds and rain. We were buffeted so hard that we pulled the room in so the topper would not be ripped off!

The next day we left with rain until well past Eureka, CA. We did not do our annual trip to Auburn to visit our friends, the Dangermonds, because they were on their own trip in the rain!

We did drive to Redwood City and visit our friends, the Harris's. We then proceeded to home base, and glad to be there.

For anyone interested, here are a few statistics:

We were gone 88 days/ avg $111/day. Total $9,814

Fuel cost $5,626 7.4 mpg avg

9,598 miles driven. Avg fuel cost was $4.51/gal It was as high as $6.10/gal in the Yukon

Most of the RV Parks now charge $40-45/night.

Hope we travel next year! Bye for now.

Dave & Bonnie

#22

10/7/2013