THE SEARCH FOR THE LIGHTS

The main purpose of this adventure was to see the Northern Lights in all their glory.

On the second night, the Captain announced that they were visible. I think every passenger turned out to see them.

I was glad we saw them for two nights, as the weather turned cloudy and they were no more.

The captain said that there was a large sunspot activity which promotes good displays of the Aurora here on earth. After I returned it was reported that the Lights were spectacular in London!

The journey to see all this was 5 1/2 hrs to Newark, layover 3 hr. 7 1/2 hr to Oslo, layover 4 hrs, 2 1/2 to Bergen. Total 22 1/2 hrs., whew!
