NORTH TOWARDS SEATTLE, NOTHIN BUT CATTLE

This morning Don & Diane met us at our space and after a reunion or so, we left Salem.

Today is Sunday and Fathers Day to boot. The traffic was noticeably heavier. A balloon festival was being held North of us and added to the congestion on the road.

The road at this point goes thru wooded countryside and some farm land. The temp today never got over 65deg.

We have had the heater on for the last three mornings. Maybe it's trying to tell us something!

We had to make a stop at a new Camping World at Fife which is just outside Tacoma. It is a larger store than San Bernardino and has a lot more items.

No Snakes by the Lakes!

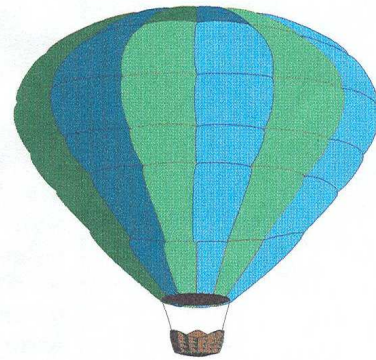

The camp we are in tonight is called Lake Pleasant RV Resort. It has a large lake and all the spaces back up to the lake edge. It is a very pretty site for a park.

We left a call for our friends, Elaine & George to contact us.

We plan to be here about 3 nights.

Wait for us !

We is headin for Alaska!
