And on the 19th day they rested!

Last night we all went to the stage show called the 40's Canteen Show. It was OK but kind of corny.

The sun, of course sets about 11:00PM or so, and rises before 3:00AM so it's a short night!

This morning we had a bunch of museums to see along with a cemetery, a church, MacDonalds, and a grocery store.

Tonight we are all going out to an Italian restaurant to eat.

The Transportation Museum had a very interesting display of plane train and dogsled memorabilia. They had good videos about them.

We next went to the Government Visitors Center and there we were treated to a marvelous slide multimedia show about the Yukon.

Today is the official Canada day celebration and they had a parade and a gathering at the Park. Everything is closed today except the grocery stores and gas stations.

The temperature this morning was 47 deg. Rather nippy. The little electric heater runs all night keeping it 60+ in the motorhome,

Preview of things to come

Heading up highway 2 to Dawson City, we plan to stop at a Reindeer Ranch where we can feed and pet the Reindeer!

We plan not to drive to Dawson in one day, even though we could. We will stay in a Government Campground.

Maybe 1 or 2 days in Dawson then we will go over the Top of the World Highway. It will be rough and slow, but beautiful. Nothing up here comes easy! They even have a tax on tax!
