STARTING THE BAD ROAD TODAY !

Last night we stayed in a turn out in the rain. We left early to go to Tok where Don had to get a part for his motorhome battery system.

We gassed and ate and then left for a Game sanctuary Bonnie had spotted.

We blithely turned off onto a dirt road to go to a town called Northway. The road immediately downgraded to an Indian trail complete with washboard ruts and potholes. The road was so rough for seven miles it shook the lightbulbs out of the fixtures. No place to turn around, the town was an Indian town. No game park, no nothing! We finally escaped, whole!

When we left Tok we were greeted with a sign that said Road Construction next 48 miles!

They say this bad road is better than the 160 mile stretch from Beaver to Haines Junction! It was all dirt and dust.

We fared better with the Canadian Customs this time. They didn't hassle us about food this time.

We are staying at the Westmark RV park.
